(Do young people today make) Writing

Comments

Ex. "Do young people today make good use of their free time?"

First of all, we should ask ourself "what things do I need to do in my free time?" Almost everyone say that doing your hobby is the best. And that's the right answer. We study and work at the daytime. But in the evening, when we have few free hours, we relax and enjoy.

I have seen different types of young people. First type, people who organize all their time. Everyday or week they make and write down their plans in their schedule.

Second type, people who just do something. They can sit and play games, watch series during all their free time. For our bad 75% of teenagers are the second type. This isn't that bad. But people have to be able to plan their free time. We need to improve and take everything from our days.
