Nowadays a numerous of people think that adolescents do not make good use of their free time. In our time, we have so many things, like technologies. Hence, it is true that it takes too many times. But do young people today make good use of their free time truly?

To commence with, today we have a different type of smartphones. This, no one will deny that this gadget takes a whole time from young people's life. Today it is like an addiction. Owing to smartphones childrens use their time in appropriate. Because, if they serve the net, they stay in social medias for a long. Nevertheless, some people carry on to do sport, read a books and make a hobby.

In my opinion, even though young people use their leisure time appropriately, many of them do the opposite things. We can noticed that, today it is a big problem of addiction from social medias. It takes a lot of time not only in young people's lives, but in adults life too. Because of that we need to tackled this problems by ourselves and restrict the social media time.

In conclusion, I want to say that today young people do not use their free time right. We need to appreciate our time and use it for useful things!
